

Country LOVING

“Our brief for the day was quite a simple one – a Yorkshire country wedding with a rustic feel. The barn has a traditional thatched roof and inside there are fabulous oak beams, gas lights and a roaring log fire. There’s even a vintage tractor outside.” – Heather Murdoch, Colin Murdoch Studio

“Spring seasonal flowers, pheasant feathers and trailing foliage gave the bouquets a rustic vibe. We used a combination of textures to give a wilder feel, with ranunculus, anemones, roses, clematis, muscari and viburnum opulus. The vibrant tones popped against the dark tweed of the suits and the wood of the barn.” – Sarah Richardson, Leafy Couture

“The boutonniere was created using a few little flowers rather than one main bloom for a more delicate look, and we added a feather and bound it with twine to create a rustic feel.” – Sarah

“This shot was the perfect opportunity to show the versatility of vintage styling. We chose hessian and lace table runners to enhance the atmosphere of the barn and the china we selected featured very natural colours, such as green, cream and brown hues.” – Jackie Davison, Rose Pink Vintage

“The fabulous inglenook windowsills were decorated with vintage-style birdcages and teacup favours.” – Jackie

“Props such as old leather suitcases, bottles and hessian bunting were used at key locations to create focal points and atmosphere.” Jackie
